CityBuild Academy

CityBuild Academy is a 12-week long pre-apprenticeship program. During this 12-week training, students will get hands-on experience with trades like carpentry, cement mason, drywall, welding, and laborer. At the end of the 12 weeks, we help place students into a construction union here in San Francisco along with job placement. During the training, we provide students supportive services such as Monthly stipends, gas and grocery cards, uniforms, and when they go out to work, we help them get their starter tools.

OMI CPP

OMI Cultural Participation Project is committed to artistic & cultural excellence in San Francisco District 11, and providing resources to those in need.

With the high cost of living pushing many vulnerable individuals & families to the brink and onto the streets, we recognize the need for safe & secure housing, and basic necessities to help stabilize our community.

As homelessness continues to rise citywide in San Francisco, and especially in our community, our goal is to create a network foundation of support and compassion with our community partners, providing hope and a new start for those who have fallen on hard times.

Together we can create a ripple effect of compassion and generosity that reaches far beyond what we can imagine. By joining forces and rallying support for this cause, we’re not just offering temporary relief; we’re planting seeds of hope and empowerment.
